

Contributors

Despina Afentouli is a sociologist-journalist. She taught journalism and media related subjects for undergraduate and postgraduate courses at Greek and British universities. She has a Ph.D. in Sociology from Panteion University (Greece). Her doctoral dissertation, “The position of the British Press in Greek-Turkish relations, 1955-1965” was published as a monograph. Her undergraduate degrees were earned at City University of London (U.K.), and Salford University (U.K.). Since 2001, she has worked as a journalist for broadcast and print media and served as a special advisor for the Press Office and Public Relations of the Hellenic Ministry of Education.

Alon Ben-Meir holds a master’s degree in philosophy and a doctorate in international relations from Oxford University. Dr. Alon ben Meir is a professor and Senior Fellow at New York University’s Center for Global Affairs and Senior Fellow at the World Policy Institute. He is an expert on Middle East politics and affairs, specializing in international negotiations, conflict resolution, and backchannel diplomacy.

Van Coufoudakis is professor and Dean Emeritus of the College of Arts and Sciences at Indiana University-Purdue University. His publications include International Aggression and Violations of Human Rights: The Case of Turkey in Cyprus, Cyprus: A Contemporary Problem in Historical Perspective, and Cyprus and International Politics—Essays by Van Coufoudakis. He also served for two terms as President of the Modern Greek Studies Association.

Dan Georgakas is director of the Greek American Studies project at the Center for Byzantine & Modern Greek Studies at Queens College. He is a bi-weekly contributor to the National Herald, executive editor of the Journal of Modern Hellenism, and editorial consultant to Cineaste film quarterly. He has written extensively on Greek American topics for academic journals and popular publications. A Greek-language edition of his My Detroit: Growing up Greek and American in Motor City was published 2016.

Constantine G. Hatzidimitriou is editor of Founded on Freedom & Virtue: Documents Illustrating the Impact of the United States on the Greek War of Independence—1821-1920, and American Accounts Documenting the Destruction of Smyrna by the Kemalist Turkish Forces, September 1922. Among his other writings, Dr. Hatzidimitriou authored the foreword to The Greek Community of New York City: Early Years to 1910 by Michael Contopoulos and Greek-related entries in The Encyclopedia of New York.

Christos P. Ioannides, Ph.D. is Director, Center for Byzantine and Modern Greek Studies, Queens College, City University of Detroit and an AHI fellow. His publications include Realpolitik in the Eastern Mediterranean: From Kissinger and the Cyprus Crisis to Carter and the Lifting of the Turkish Arms Embargo (NY: Pella, 2001), and editor of Greeks in English-Speaking Countries: Culture, Identity, Politics (NY/Athens: Aristide D Caratzas, 1997).

Michael Kalafatas was the director of admissions at Brandeis University for a quarter century. He is the author of three books, including The Bellstone: The Greek Sponge Divers of the Aegean, One American's Journey Home. He also served as executive producer of the documentary film, Pushing the Limits: The Story of Greek Sponge Diving, now part of the Immersion Presents marine science film series created by undersea explorer Dr. Robert Ballard. His maternal grandparents hailed from Eastern Thrace where the nine-year period (1914-1923) of the genocide of the Greeks in Turkey began on "Black Easter," April 6, 1914.

Nick Larigakis is president of the American Hellenic Institute, a non-profit Greek American public policy center and think tank. The AHI works to strengthen relations between the United States and Greece and Cyprus and within the Greek American community. Larigakis initiated the AHI's The Future of Hellenism in America annual conferences in 2002 and annually leads the AHI Foundation's Student Foreign Policy Trip to Greece and Cyprus.

Dr. Vladislav B. Sotirovic is Professor at Mykolas Romeris University (Vilnius, Lithuania). He is Director of Kosovo-Metochia (www.kosovometochia.org), an NGO founded by Bill Clinton in 1999. Sotirovic is also editor-in-chief of Global Politics, an alternative electronic magazine on the globalization of world politics (www.gloabl-polittcs.eu). His major research and teaching subjects are global politics, European Studies, multiculturalism, globalization, and Balkan nationalism and history.

George N. Shirinian is the Executive Director of the International Institute for Genocide and Human Rights Studies (A Division of the Zoryan Institute). His books and articles on the Armenian and Greek Genocides, include The Asia Minor Catastrophe and the Ottoman Greek Genocide: Essays on Asia Minor, Pontos and Eastern Thrace, 1913-1923 (Bloomington, IL: The Asia Minor and Pontos Hellenic Research Center, 2012) and Genocide in the Ottoman Empire: Armenians, Assyrians, and Greeks 1913-1923 (New York and Oxford: Berghahn Books, 2017), published in association with the Asia Minor and Pontos Hellenic Research Center and the Zoryan Institute.

Gevorg Vardanyan is a Research Fellow in the Department of Comparative Genocide Studies of the Armenian Genocide Museum and Institute, Yerevan. His research focuses on the comparative aspects of Armenian Genocide Studies, genocide denial, Ottoman Greek history, and Turkish foreign policy. He is co-editor of the Journal of Genocide Studies (in Armenian), the journal of the Armenian Genocide Museum and Institute. He has published numerous articles on aspects of the Armenian, Greek, and Assyrian genocides. He is also author of the monograph, Greek Population in the Ottoman Empire and the Asia Minor Disaster (1914–1923) (AGMI Press, 2012).

The AHIF Policy Journal | copyright © 2018 American Hellenic Institute Foundation, Inc.

All rights reserved. All articles appearing in the AHIF Policy Journal are the copyright of the Journal. The online edition is free to individuals and institutions. Copies of the individual articles are strictly prohibited. Reproduction, storage or transmission of this work in any form or by any means beyond that permitted by Sections 107 and 108 of the U.S. Copyright Law is unlawful without prior permission in writing of the publisher, or in accordance with the terms of licenses issued by the Copyright Clearance Center (CCC) and other organizations authorized by the publisher to administer reprographic reproduction rights. Distribution of the published articles for research or educational purposes is possible, but requires the formal authorization of the Journal editor and the authors. Commercial use of the AHIF Policy Journal or the articles contained herein is expressly prohibited without the written consent of the Managing Editor at AHIFPolicyJournal@aheworld.org. AHIF 1220 16th Street NW, Washington, DC 20036.